Demand Twenty Per Cent Advance
On Present Wages.

EIGHT THOUSAND WALK OUT

Strike of the Garment Workers at New York Extending to Other Branches of the Clothing Trade. American Federation of Labor Declared Ready to Aid in the Contest. Too Early For Arbitration.

New York, Jan. 2.—The strike of the garment workers was extended today to the "busshelers" branch of the men's clothing trade as a result of a meeting of the committee in charge of the strike.

This affects the ready-made clothing departments of the large department stores and of the larger clothing establishments where all the work is done in large factories instead of through contractors.

The busshelers are the tailors who do the fitting of ready-made clothing, making such changes as are necessary before the clothing is delivered. Ephraim Kaufman, business agent of the clothing cutters' union, one of the committee of five, said that the strike of the busshelers will bring out from 7,000 to 8,000 more tailors. The busshelers will demand 20 per cent advance on the present wages and a minimum of not less than $18 a week.

"The strike will be extended in the other trades," Kaufman continued. "The committee of the 1,500 who visited the shops will again be on duty and reach the shops they have not

TROLLEY LINES TIED UP

Striking Carmen Demand Soap of Street Railway Head.

Yonkers, N. Y., Jan. 2.—Not a trolley wheel is turning in Yonkers and visitors have joined the chorus of complaint of local residents at being compelled to walk because of a strike of motormen and conductors on the lines of the Yonkers Railway company.

Accusing Fred W. Whitridge, president of the Third Avenue Railway company and its Yonkers and Mount Vernon subsidiaries, of "perversity, persecution and petty tyranny," and demanding his resignation as head of the West Chester companies, the 300 trolley men on the Yonkers line quit work after the vice president and general manager of the Yonkers company discharged three men who refused to break in as a motorman a man from New York.

No efforts were made by the company to operate the cars.

Ice Breaks A Tragedy

GO THROUGH THIN ICE

Three Little Boys Are Drowned in a Stream.

Olean, N. Y., Jan. 2. — Four little boys while playing on the ice near their homes in Boardmanville ventured upon some thin ice, and three of them were plunged to death in the water. Charles Fitchner, survivor of the quartet, ran frantically up and down the bank while his companions struggled for life in the stream. Before assistance could be obtained the water had claimed all three boys. The drowned are Raymond Fath, 11; Homer and Milo Williams, 12 and 14 respectively.

FIVE CHILDREN BORN TO CARPENTER'S WIFE.

Abbeville, La., Jan. 2.—Five male children, all perfectly formed, were born to Mrs. Audrey Lassen, wife of a local carpenter. Two of the children were dead at birth, but the others lived at intervals of from five minutes to more than an hour. The smallest of the children weighed 22 ounces, and the largest tipped the scales at slightly over five pounds. Mrs. Lassen has three other children, two of them twins and born two years ago. All three of these are boys. She is 28 years of age and her husband is four years her senior. She apparently weighs nearly 200 pounds, while her husband weighs no more than 140.

FREIGHT TRAIN GOES THROUGH A BRIDGE

Seven Men Killed and Half Dozen
More Badly Hurt.

Huntington, W. Va., Jan. 2. — The first day of the new year brought disaster to the Chesapeake & Ohio railroad. An engine of the heaviest type, pulling westbound freight train No. 99, plunged through a temporary bridge spanning the Guyan river at Guyandotte, at the eastern edge of this city. Seven men were huried to death and a half dozen more seriously hurt.

The dead are: F. E. Weber, engineer, Henry White, watchman; Emmett Wood, Charles Haddie, James Crawford, Charles Coyner and J. G. Wheeler, all bridge workers.

The financial loss to the railroad company is estimated at half a million dollars. Freight traffic on the road has been completely tied up and passenger traffic was resumed after a delay of several hours by the use of the track of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad.

DRUNKS SHOOT UP HOUSE OF WORSHIP

PANIC IN A CHURCH

Rowdies Armed With Revolvers Invade Place of Worship.

Cincinnati, O., Jan. 2. — A trio of drunken rowdies, armed with revolvers, invaded Corpus Christi church at Newport, Ky., and by shouting and brandishing their weapons started a small panic among several hundred worshippers who had assembled for mass. The congregation started to stampede, but were halted by the reassuring voice of Father Von Mehr, the pastor. The men in the congregation surrounded the ruffians and, after a hard fight, disarmed them.

Hogan's Mission in Cincinnati.

Columbus, O., Jan. 2. — Attorney General Hogan is at Cincinnati today, where the Hamilton county grand jury, which has been making an investigation into the affairs of the Cincinnati Trust company, with which George B. Cox is connected, will make its report. It is intimated that both state and Hamilton county authorities are not altogether satisfied with the manner in which the investigation has been progressing.

Host After Gerlach's Job.

Columbus, O., Jan. 2. — Applicants for the position of superintendent of the Boys' Industrial school, near Lancaster, now vacant through resignation of Major F. C. Gerlach, filed petitions for his place as early as two weeks ago. There is now a large list of applicants who desire to rule the school, from which, during the last two days, 16 boys have escaped. Four got away New Year's, but three were captured.

GOETHALS WILL HOLD OLD JOB

Taft Will Not Reorganize Canal
Zone's Government.

SAYS POLITICS HAS CREPT IN

President Expresses Amazement Over the Attack on His Plan by Southern Democrats, Who, He Says, Feared Goethals' Distribution of Patronage Would Not Be in Accordance with Wishes of Democrats.

Washington, Jan. 2. — Determined that under no circumstances, so long as he is president, the Panama canal shall be made the football of politics, President Taft is likely to abandon his intention of reorganizing the government of the canal zone and naming Colonel George W. Goethals as chief officer of the canal. Developments here indicated President Taft will not nominate Colonel Goethals to be civil governor of the canal zone, nor will he make any move towards changing the present establishment on the zone.

The president returned from Panama with Colonel Goethals in his personal party, fully intending to name the colonel to be governor of the zone. When he learned of the acrimonious attacks made on his plan by southern Democrats, the president was amazed. When he heard the alleged basis of these attacks was the fear that Colonel Goethals would not distribute the canal patronage in accordance with the wishes of the Democrats, he was exasperated. The news of the opposition forming against him on purely political grounds likewise amazed Colonel Goethals.

It is understood the president's probable abandonment of the plan to name Colonel Goethals to be governor is in accord with the wishes of that officer. Colonel Goethals has often stated to friends that he never would permit the canal work to be in the least influenced by politics. The president will probably leave the present organization intact, thus preventing any fight on Colonel Goethals. He can not be disturbed in his present position, and the impression among Washington officials is that Mr. Wilson himself will continue Colonel Goethals in full charge of the canal zone when he takes up the reorganization of the canal zone government.

A SAD TRAGEDY IN QUEEN CITY LIMIT

FATHER AND SON KILLED

Are Struck by a Train on a Trestle Near Cincinnati.

Cincinnati, O., Jan. 2.—Eugene W. Dahl, traveling freight agent of the Grand Trunk railroad, and his young son were instantly killed when they were hit by a train on the Cincinnati, Lebanon & Northern railroad tracks at Pleasant Ridge, a suburb. Mr. Dahl and his son were following Mrs. Dahl and her father, G. G. Carlson of Chicago, along the tracks and were crossing a trestle when the train bore down upon them. Mrs. Dahl and her father barely managed to get off the trestle in time, but the husband and son were hit.

Judge Spear to Practice Law.

Columbus, O., Jan. 2.—Undaunted by considerations of age, Judge William T. Spear, who terminated 27 years' service on the supreme bench of the state, will resume the interrupted practice of law. He is 77 years old, but has sent out announcements that he will engage in the practice of law, with offices at 8 East Broad street, this city.

COURAGE OOOZED AWAY

Convicted Iron Workers in Leavenworth Penitentiary.

Leavenworth, Kan., Jan. 2.—When the train bearing the convicted dynamiters arrived at the jail here, the prisoners were called by their names in alphabetical order and lined up, two by two. Then at a word they marched slowly toward another gate in a huge stone building. Armed guards were on each side, and the prisoners fled into the prison.

"All of the men were brave enough until we got within the gates of the prison," said one of the guards. "Then only did they seem to be prisoners; their courage seemed to fall away and they were only a body of crushed men. The only man to break down and weep at the prison was W. Bert Brown of Kansas City."

May Be Settled

Little Falls, N. Y., Jan. 2.—The belief is strong here that the strike of the local textile workers, which has been in progress more than two months, is about to be settled. This belief is shared in alike by mill owners and operatives, and there was a conference between the state board of mediation and representatives of the strikers that is expected to accomplish a great deal toward ending the controversy.

BRINDLE BULLDOG SENT THROUGH THE MAILS.

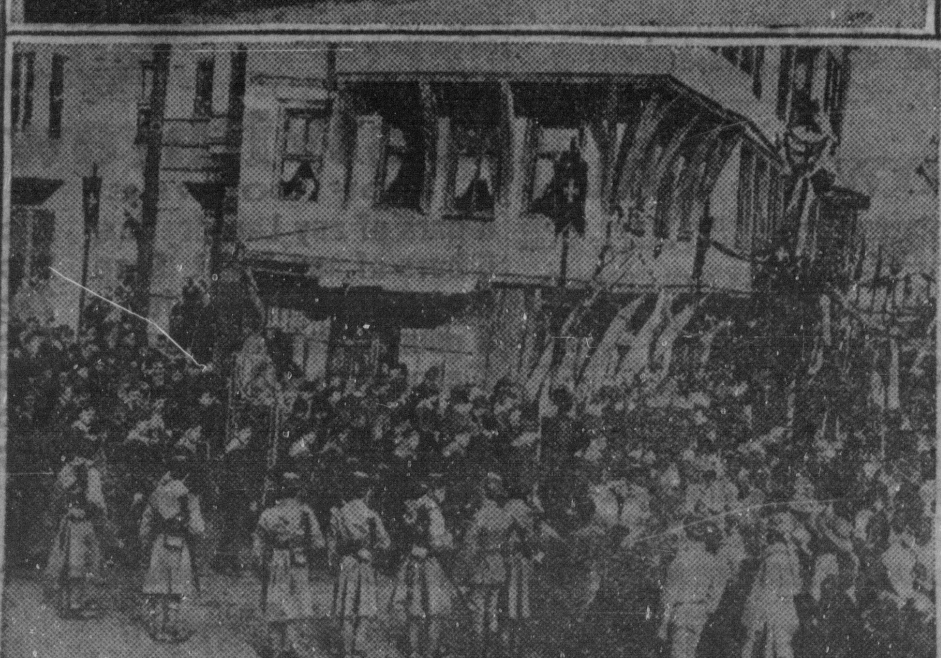

Yonkers, N. Y., Jan. 2.—A brindle bulldog was the first parcel post package mailed in Yonkers. It was a box addressed to William T. Trivier. Although live animals are not accepted for transportation through the mails, Postmaster Warren made an exception, as it was the first parcel, and had Carrier Burton deliver it. The postmaster went in his private carriage and personally delivered a six-pound roast from New York addressed to a Yonkers housewife so that she might have it in time for New Year's dinner.

Taft's First Parcel Post Package.

Washington, Jan. 2.—President Taft received his first parcel post package. It was from John Wanamaker of Philadelphia, former postmaster general, and was mailed shortly after the system was inaugurated. The package contained 49 souvenir spoons, representing the 49 states of the Union.

Patriarch of Greek Church Buried Sitting In His Chair

Photos by American Press Association.

HIS all holiness Joachim III, the Greek patriarch, who died recently at Constantinople, was after death fully rested and placed in a sitting posture in the episcopal chair. The public then filed past the chair and paid their last tributes of veneration by kissing the robes of the deceased prelate, as shown in the picture at the top. The patriarch was borne, sitting in the chair, to his last resting place at the monastery of St. Demetrius. He wore the Byzantine crown. The procession, including sailors and soldiers, was extremely odd to western eyes.

Kentucky Horseman Owner of Noted Sire Thinks of Locating Here

Mr. Warren Bacon, of Maplehurst, Kentucky, Visits This City Over New Year's and is Favorably Impressed With the Outlook. Shown the City By Local Horseman Chas. Allen.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Bacon, of Maplehurst farm, Paris, Ky., spent New Year's day at the Cherry hotel, remaining over until Thursday.

Mr. Bacon is one of the leading trotting horse breeders of Kentucky, owning the famous sire Jay Bird for a great many years.

Jay Bird was such a prolific sire of speed that the saying "It's always a Jay Bird" became a byword in the trotting horse world.

Mr. Bacon is now the owner of the well bred sire, s Wiggins 2:19 1-2, Laconda 2:02 and his favorite, Peter Billakin (3) 2:16 1-4 that last season as a four-year-old, trained in 2:09 3-4.

Mr. Bacon is considering locating at Washington C. H. with his horses and would be a valuable addition to our ever growing horse industry.

Mr. Bacon was shown about by Chas. Allen (who is always ready to furnish visiting horsemen with information or assistance, and the visitor was favorably impressed with the situation and many hope he will decide to cast his lot with us.

James J. Flynn Is Chosen Clerk Of Safety Board

Attorney C. E. Baughn Still Remains Clerk of the Board of Public Service--Shift Made on Monday.

On Monday, the City Board of Public Safety changed clerks. Attorney C. E. Baughn, who last January was chosen clerk of the Safety Board and the Service Board by Mr. J. M. Willis and Mr. J. M. Baker, who were then Director of Public Safety and Director of Public Service respectively, has been succeeded by James J. Flynn as Clerk of the Safety Board. Some months ago Mr. Willis resigned as Director of Public Safety and was succeeded by Mr. O. McLellan and Mr. Baker, who resigned as Service Director, early in the summer was succeeded by Mr. Chas. Mark.

Mr. Baughn has rendered, so far as the public has been advised, excellent service in his position as clerk of these two important boards and he attributes his being succeeded by Flynn to political causes entirely.

It will be remembered that Mr. Baughn was quite prominently identified with the Progressive party in the campaign of last fall.

Beryl Cavinee Captures Eagle

Mr. Beryl Cavinee, of the Bogus road, captured an American eagle this season's bird, in the woods back of his home New Year's morning.

When Mr. Cavinee caught his first glimpse of the big bird perched in a tree he thought it was a hawk and went for his gun. A nearer view showed a fine grey eagle, which Mr. Cavinee winged at the first shot. The bird showed fight, but his captor soon had him safely boxed and brought him at once to town, putting the eagle on exhibition in the Katz store.

The bird measures 6 feet 4 inches from wing to wing.

Old Paper Publishes Death of Pres. Lincoln

This office is indebted to Mr. Jacob Cockerill, of East Court street, for a copy of the New York Herald, published on Saturday, April 15, 1865, and giving all the particulars of the assassination of President Abraham Lincoln, which occurred at Ford's theater in Washington, D. C., at 9:30 p. m. Friday, April 14, 1865.

In this particular issue The Herald was issued with column rules inverted on the first page, while nearly the whole of the first page was devoted to glaring headlines and a story on the assault made upon Mr. Lincoln and Secretary of State Seward. The story is one now old to most minds, but it has seldom fallen to the lot of the present-day citizen to see and read for himself the papers of that terrible day, carrying the news of Lincoln's assassination. Mr. Cockerill prizes the old paper very highly, and well he should, but as a newspaper, the old paper is not pretentious, being just half the size of this newspaper.

In addition to the Lincoln story the old paper contains a number of items reprinted from southern papers, giving Jeff Davis' last proclamation to the Confederacy, the positions and discouraging conditions confronting the southern armies, etc. A feeble attempt is also made to give market reports, but as the majority of the reports came in by mail and grape-vine in those days, the reports are not interesting. One item states that the shad market at Raleigh, N. C., had been overstocked a week before, by reason of the receipt of a train load, and added that shad were going off shortly at 50c per pair.

Local Athletes Trim Bliss Squad

In the classiest game of basket ball ever witnessed by local fans, Washington Y. M. C. A. went through the Bliss College bunch at the tune of 49 to 25, in their first game of the season.

Although Bliss loomed up stronger in practice, the Y. boys were never in danger of being defeated after the first whistle blew.

Team work spells it all, Washington had it, although it was the first time the squad had been together.

Smith, a new addition to the local ranks, is an old head at the game, and he proved well his worth in last night's contest.

Mobley, the old high school man, also played a brilliant game at forward and he and Smith will make a great combination before the season is over.

Taylor the big center, is absolutely new to the game for three weeks ago saw his advent into basket ball, but at center he is a wonder, and has yet to meet the player than can get the ball away from him on the jump, he mixes well into the game and can shoot goals when necessary.

Peterson and Thompson, the husky little guards, played rings around the big Bliss forwards and were in a great way responsible for the one-sided score.

Baughn and Townsley who played guards in the last half, also did great work in holding down the Bliss forwards.

Washington.—Smith, R. F.; Mobley, L. F.; Taylor, C.; Thompson, Baughn, L. G.; Peterson, Townsley, R. G.

Bliss.—Jones, R. F.; Wright, L. F.; Snoots, C.; Runt, L. G.; Michael, R. G.

Summary.—Field goals, Smith 10; Mobley 7; Thompson 4; Wright 4; Jones 3. Referee—Earl L. Smith. Timekeeper—C. E. Smith.

IN SOCIETY

The New Year's season socially is being enlivened by quite a number of affairs, many of them enjoyable little affairs in honor of former Washingtonians, back for the holiday season.

A New Year's Kensington exceedingly pretty in its appointments and giving opportunity to 20 young women to meet Miss Bertha Swope, of Cleveland, the attractive guest of Miss Bess Cleaveland, was given by Miss Cleaveland.

A holiday color scheme of crimson and white was artistically carried out in carnations and greenery.

Assisting in the hospitalities were Mrs. Fred West and Miss Clara Thurston. Mrs. Clarence Frazer and Miss Louise Hershey, of Niles, were out of town guests.

Tuesday afternoon Mrs. Alice Moorman delightfully entertained a reunion of a number of visiting young women and the members of their former circle, the "old crowd" having the most pleasurable afternoon of reminiscences, whetted by their years of separation.

The out of town guests included Mrs. George Fabb, of Cincinnati; Mrs. Luella Herbert, of Columbus; Mrs. Hamor Conn, of Cleveland; Mrs. Robert Leach, of Columbus; Mrs. Arvilla Rowe Baxter, of Cincinnati; Mrs. Tabitha Hunsicker, of Williamsport; Miss Laura Weaver, of Xenia; Mrs. Willis Jones, of Mt. Sterling.

Mr. and Mrs. Tasso Post gave a very handsome New Year's dinner at their home on the Creek road. The house was elaborately embellished with Christmas bells and decorations and carnations and chrysanthemums formed the centerpieces of two tables. A four-course menu was served.

The guests included Mr. and Mrs. George Moore, Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Marine, Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Hardway, Mr. and Mrs. Clark Post, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Pine, Emmitt Hardway.

The New Year's dance given under the auspices of the Knights of Pythias at their beautiful castle, passed off brilliantly New Year's eve.

Seventy couples were in attendance and danced the old year out and the new year in, in the highest spirits.

Horstman and Eyre excelled in their music and a most appetizing supper was served in the banquet hall by Caterer Edwards.

The large number of out-of-town guests added to the evening's pleasure.

The committee having all arrangements under excellent management included Messrs. George Gregg, Jess Blackmer, Ed Snyder, O. T. Grafton, Dr. Harry Roberts.

Mrs. C. W. Lewis hospitably entertained ten friends from Wilmington with a novel "winter picnic," New Year's day at her pretty home on Columbus avenue.

The Wilmington guests included Mesdames O. W. Hale, Frank McDonald, F. R. Smith, Sidney D. Myers, Joe Doan, Frank Whinery, Chas. L. Haworth, E. T. Probasco, Grant Wallace, John Hirt.

After a dinner of genuine picnic delicacies, the game of "500" was enjoyed through the afternoon. Mrs. Lewis also entertained the women of the Friday Euchre club for the game.

Pink and white carnations were tastefully used in decoration.

Good Show Of Poultry

And Competition Is Spirited at Jeffersonville---Institute Opened on Wednesday Morning. Good Crowds in Attendance.

The Jefferson poultry club is holding its seventh annual show this week and the Farmers' Institute began its two days' session last Wednesday morning.

There is a large display of well groomed standard bred poultry on exhibition, and it is well worth the time to visit that busy little city and see the attractions and hear the discussions in the Institute.

Thursday p. m. the ladies had the right of way.

Thursday afternoon in the poultry show, Judge Ira Keller placed the awards and it was no easy task to do it. It could never be done without the finest judgment, for in some of the larger class displays competition was at white heat. While a majority of the standard bred varieties are represented in the exhibits, the Rocks and Reds were largely in the majority and the breeders in those classes have no little fun in their friendly rivalry.

In the Rock class, as usual, the entries are the largest, represented by Eichelberger and Son, Johnson Shelly, Gordon, Ladd, Duff and McKillip. Among the R. I. Reds there are to be noted, Supt. of Hall Bush, Sec. Moon, West Blessing, Willard Kirk, Moser, Eichelberger and son, Cary Gault.

The crowds in attendance both Wednesday and Thursday was unusually large, and the big week during the corn show and Extension School did not have a tendency to detract from the interest usually displayed in the Institute, but on the other hand, apparently created new interest in the institute and poultry show.

Each session has been of marked interest and full of instruction for every one. The state speakers are exceptionally good and the discussions have been both spirited and beneficial.

Knights Templar Bury Solon Loofbourrow

The funeral services of Sir Knight Solon Loofbourrow were conducted with much impressiveness by the Knights Templar, Garfield Commandery No. 28, Thursday morning at 10 o'clock in Grace M. E. church.

The Sir Knights, in full uniform and plumed helmets, marched to the Loofbourrow home and acted as escort to the church.

Relatives and close friends, as well as the Sir Knights and members of the other Masonic lodges, of all of which Mr. Loofbourrow had been a valued member, assembled in sorrowful farewell tribute, filling the body of the church.

Rev. T. W. Locke, former pastor of Grace church, now pastor of the Third Avenue church, of Columbus, conducted the religious services, assisted by the present pastor, Rev. Frederick E. Ross.

Rev. Locke followed the reading of the memoir with a sympathetic and appreciative little talk and read two hymns.

The Knights Templar then took charge, their beautiful ritual service for the dead being conducted by Eminent Commander Carl Mallow.

The casket, heaped with beautiful flowers, the emblems of the Masonic Fraternity and the offerings of relatives and friends, was borne from the church to be taken to the former home of the Loofbourrows, in Mt. Sterling for interment in the Loofbourrow family burying lot in the Mt. Sterling cemetery.

A number of carriages drove through, relatives and a delegation of Sir Knights from Garfield Commandery accompanying Mrs. Loofbourrow and her two daughters, Misses Florence and Alice. Mt. Sterling members of the commandery met the little funeral cortege as it entered Mt. Sterling and accompanied it to the cemetery, where the order held brief services.

Acting as pall-bearers were J. C. Greiner, Wilson Bachert, E. J. Light, Wert Mallow, Anda Henkle, Grant Hays.

Would Change Places.

The butler of a Scottish laird, who had been in the family for many years, resigned his place, complaining that his lordship's wife was always scolding him. "If that's all you have to complain of," said his master, "you have little excuse for leaving." "I'm not going to put up with it any longer," was the answer. "Go, then," said the laird, sighing, "and be thankful all the days of your life that you are not married to her."

Tom Gunn, Chinese Aviator, Who Can Do Stunts In the Air

THIS is Tom Gunn. Who is Tom Gunn? Well, to begin with, he's a Chinese; also he is an aviator. Outside of that it doesn't interest us what Tom Gunn is. China has taken up a lot of modern things lately. She adopted a republican form of government. She handed over the vote to the ladies. Now she has taken up aviation. Tom Gunn is one of the best of Chinese air men, of whom there are at present only a few. He has been exhibiting near San Francisco.

NATURE'S BAROMETERS.

The believers in the "fur and feather" barometer who predicted a mild winter have so far found much in the weather conditions to justify them in their claim that the beasts and birds are the best weather prophets.

For every season in the year those older people who delight to observe and study the habits of nature's wild creatures can and will confidently tell you just what sort of a season the future is preparing for us.

Few of us indeed, do not know that when wild geese fly to the south, cold weather is approaching and when they fly north that warm weather is close behind them. When the migratory birds come from the southlands in the spring of the year we believe that winter has broken and spring has come in fact as well as on the calendar.

The last fall those who watch and study nature's creatures told us that the winter would be a mild one. The wild geese remained in the north with as much confidence as if there was no snow and ice this side of the arctic circle.

If the wild geese—and geese of any description are generally accounted not to be above the average in wisdom—are so wise on the weather conditions of the future as human beings accorded them, it does seem that the wise thrifty squirrel and the hundreds of living things should know by an instinct more reliable than weather bureaus and telegraph instruments, just what the weather is going to be and should disclose their secrets to men who will watch them closely and study their habits.

At any rate it is a comforting belief and if not better than any other weather barometer it is at least fully as reliable as any man-made device.

The study of the wild birds and wild animals who living by their wits and instinct must provide for the future out of the store of the present at the peril of their lives, is intensely interesting and brings every one who engages in that study in closer touch with the great mysteries of the universe.

No man, no matter how wise he is, has all the knowledge, and all men, for all their boasting superiority, can learn much from the creatures who are close to Nature and must know her whims and provide for the future.

There is a close partnership between Nature and her children and perhaps after all the "old timers" who rely upon the flight of the wild goose, the invoice of the squirrel's store house and the like, have just as good a barometer as the imposing piece of mechanism which hangs on the frame of the front door.

Men of Big Business Forget That People Rule

By ELBERT H. GARY, Head of the United States Steel Corporation

QUESTIONS of great magnitude and concern are at present agitating the minds of the people throughout the world. Men of big business may be STUBBORNLY OBLIVIOUS of some of them, but we ought not to be. We refuse to consider, or at least postpone consideration of, many of them. The questions are international, national and domestic, and they involve the welfare of every one.

We are disposed to wrap around ourselves the CLOAK OF SELF RIGHTEOUSNESS, or we proclaim that we rely upon the stability of the government or the majesty of the law, and we consider ourselves safe, whether within our vision everything seems to be calm and tranquil or otherwise.

WE SOMETIMES FORGET THAT IT IS THE MASSES OF THE PEOPLE WHO DETERMINE FINAL RESULTS; THAT THEY MAY ESTABLISH AND ABOLISH GOVERNMENTS; THAT THEY MAY MAKE AND UNMAKE CONSTITUTIONS. SOONER OR LATER THEY BRING ABOUT CONDITIONS SATISFACTORY TO THEM, EVEN BY RESORTING TO DESTRUCTIVE MEASURES. THEY HAVE THE MIGHT, AND THEY CAN DETERMINE FOR THEMSELVES WHAT IS THE RIGHT.

They believe in the sentiment, to quote from a French writer on French history, that "there is a bigotry in politics as well as in religion, and it is the worst of bigotry to reject change as something which is inherently bad. LAWS TO BE PERMANENTLY USEFUL MUST VARY WITH THE VARYING CONDITION OF MAN.

Poetry For Today

TEN RESOLUTIONS.

Ten resolutions stood in a line,
"Won't you have something?"
Then there were nine.

Nine resolutions waited their fate.
"Have a cigar!"
And then there were eight.

Eight resolutions looked up to heaven,
Bang! went the hammer,
And then there were seven.

Seven survivors trimmed up their wicks.
"Don't you play poker?"
Then there were six.

Six resolutions managed to thrive.
"Your credit is good."
And then there were five.

Five resolutions sturdily wore.
"Lend me a dollar."
And then there were four.

Four resolutions chuckled with glee.
"Yes, I am getting up!"
Then there were three.

Three resolutions, frightened and blue,
"I can't pay you this month."
And then there were two.

Two resolutions, hard on the run.
"Let's go duck shooting!"
And then there was one.

One resolution. "Let's spend what we've saved!"
And this is how hell has been finally paved.

"SUNBONNET SUE."

"Sunbonnet Sue" which comes to The Empire theater on Friday, Jan. 3, is beyond question one of the real hits of the present season. A gripping story, ably told, delightful comedy, startling situations and a superb, scenic production all combined to make this play one of the season's strongest attractions. Every scene of the play contains a dramatic interest that never lets up and the original story is so well told that one seems to fairly live it with the characters. "Sunbonnet Sue" is a play with a punch and one that never misses.

Another Middleman Is in Bad With People

AFTER ALLEGED GO-BETWEEN

District Attorney Scaus Clew in the Police Graft Case.

New York, Jan. 2.—The district attorney's office, which has been trying to establish connections between the vice trust and two men arrested on a charge of bribing a witness in connection with police graft, has at last found a connecting link, it is thought. The men charged with bribery are David Maier, now in the Tombs, and Charles Dublier released in $7,500 bail. The connecting hinges on the work of one "Red" Seidner, who has been active in several phases of the investigation and is said to be a go-between between the police and the heads of vice.

THE CURFEW AT CHERTSEY.

Romantic Association of a Surrey Village with the Sundown Bell.

At sundown the little Surrey village of Chertsey, England, will re-echo to the tolling of the curfew bell, which, in accordance with ancient custom, is sounded every evening from September 29 to March 25.

It is appropriate that Chertsey should thus maintain the custom for the village has interesting "curfew" associations. The curfew bell which hung in Chertsey Abbey tolled for the funeral of Henry VI., murdered in the Tower of London and hurried to Chertsey to be buried "without priest, clerk, torch or taper, singing or saying."

The abbey was also the scene of the romantic legend which relates how Blanche Heriot, to save her lover Neville, nephew of Warwick the King-maker, condemned to die at sundown, climbed the curfew tower and held the clapper of the great bell. The story, always popular locally, attained wide fame when Mr. Clifford Harrison embodied it in his poem "The Legend of Chertsey." Since then reciters' audiences have probably had their fill of it.

Points in Etiquette.

It is not considered complimentary to ask a bill collector to call again.

Fat men should always apologize upon entering a crowded street-car. It is not necessary to raise your umbrella in an elevator. It will go up of its own accord.

Do not chew gum in the bread-line. It is likely to arouse envy and give you the name of wishing to display your pecuniary superiority.

Introductions are unnecessary at ball games. If you do not know the man sitting next to you, wait until the ball is knocked over the fence and then hit him violently on the back.

Number of the Stars.

On directing the eye to the celestial vault the impression made upon the mind is that of an incalculable number of stars being visible—a host which our arithmetic will not suffice to reckon. But this is an optical illusion. The twinkling and disorderly position of the stars confuse and deceive the sight. An ordinary eye, it has been estimated, will only discern at one time about 3,000 stars in our firmament under the most favorable circumstances, and including both hemispheres there will not be more than 5,000 visible to a keen and experienced gaze.

Using an instrument of no great size—little more than two inches wide—there have been not less than 310,000 stars charted in the northern half of the heavens alone. It is calculated that the total number visible in the entire celestial vault—with the aid of the larger telescopes—would mount up to 77,000,000.

To Make Sleep Come.

If you cannot get to sleep try a sponge bath thus: Into eight ounces of alcohol put two of ammonia and two of camphor. Shake thoroughly, and when well mixed add four ounces of sea salt and enough hot water to fill a quart bottle. To apply it pour a little of the liquid in a shallow dish, moisten the whole body a little at a time by dipping a small sponge in it. Rub on only very little, then finish with a vigorous rubbing with a coarse crash towel. Get into bed, and we'll insure the quick arrival of "Nature's quick restorer, balmy sleep."—Family Doctor.

A TAME DEFI.

Reason Why the Baker Changed His List.

Legler, the baker, bent over his counter, working away with a pencil and a piece of wrapping-paper, when Mrs. Liscum entered for a loaf of bread.

Noticing on the paper a lot of familiar names, Mrs. Liscum asked: "What are you figuring there, Mr. Legler?"

"Well, ma'am," says Legler, "I'm just putting down the names of all my friends that I can lick."

"Is Harvey Liscum's name there?" asked Mrs. Liscum.

"Yes," said the baker. "Yes, I got it down."

Mrs. Liscum went home and told Harvey. He hastened to the bakery. "Legler," he said, "is it true I'm on the list of men you can lick?"

"Yes," said Legler calmly; "I've got you down, Mr. Liscum."

"Why, you little shrimp," roared Liscum, "I could eat you alive!"

"Are you sure you could?" asked the baker.

"You bet I'm sure!" said Liscum, shaking his fist in Legler's face.

"Well, then," said the baker sadly, "I guess I'll cross you off the list."—Chicago Evening Post.

TURKS NOW WILLING TO CEDE TERRITORY

Submit Alternative Proposition to the Balkan Allies.

London, Jan. 2. — After their protracted diplomatic skirmishing the Turks finally capitulated to a majority of the demands of the Balkan allies at the session of the peace conference in St. James palace. Through Rechad Pasha they agreed to cede practically the whole of the Ottoman empire's European dominions, except Adrianople and the territory between it and Constantinople, to their victorious neighbors.

The terms the Turkish delegates presented to the conference as a counter proposal to the demands of the allies were:

First. The rectification of the Turko-Bulgarian frontier by making the boundary west of the line now occupied by the troops of the allies in the vilayet of Adrianople.

Second. The question of the status of Adrianople to be settled by Turkey and Bulgaria direct.

Third. The cession of the remainder of European Turkey, including Janina and Scutari, to the allies.

Fourth. The Albanian and Cretan questions to be solved by the powers.

Fifth. The Aegean Islands to remain Turkish.

These proposals are not all acceptable to the allies. Adjournment was taken until Friday.

One "White Hope" Less

In the Vernon arena in this city. The fight was so one-sided that Referee Charles Eytan stopped it in the eighteenth round to save the reeling Palzer from further punishment. McCarty, Palzer's curly-haired superior, was smiling and scarcely scratched when the fight ended.

Palzer's eyes were almost closed, his mouth, nose, cheek and ears cut, and he presented a bloody and battered appearance. Only his capacity for standing punishment saved him from being knocked out, for McCarty landed on his jaw repeatedly.

McCarty, in addition to the championship, wins an attractive and remunerative theatrical engagement, a large purse and the diamond-studded championship belt made at the order of Tom Carey, the fight promoter, for presentation to the winner.

The arena seats when filled to capacity 11,000. Several thousand persons were unable to gain admission.

Go at It With a Rush.

McCarty and Palzer did not shake hands when they went to the center of the ring for the first round. They began slugging almost immediately, McCarty landing the first blow—a light right hook to the jaw. The round ended with honors even.

In the second McCarty staggered Palzer with a right hook. Al landed a right on McCarty's jaw, and the cowboy returned right and left to Al's head. He had a shade the best of the round. In the third Palzer sent a hard right to McCarty's jaw, but the latter landed twice on Palzer's head, jabbed his nose and rocked his head with another left. Al tried to rush him and ran into a hard right. It was McCarty's round by a good margin.

Rounds four, five and six were marked by fast fighting and a pretty even exchange of blows, although McCarty, being the faster, landed more. Palzer probably had a shade the best of it in the fourth; the fifth was even and the sixth was slightly in Palzer's favor, although he showed punishment and was bleeding from the mouth and a cut over one eye, while McCarty was unscathed. McCarty had the best of the seventh.

Early in the eighth McCarty landed right and left to the jaw and followed it with another series of rights and lefts. Palzer's blows were mostly landed on McCarty's body and were not effective, for the cowboy danced about the Iowa farmer strong, confident and fast, landing almost at will. It was McCarty's round by a wide margin.

Palzer's Gameness.

In the ninth round Palzer gamely took more punishment on the chin. McCarty's deadly left continually getting through. Palzer had slowed up a good deal, and in the clinches showed great unwillingness to break. It was McCarty's round.

McCarty slipped in the tenth during an exchange, but did not fall and was up again in a flash. Palzer landed a left on McCarty's jaw, but got good right and left hooks to the jaw in return. McCarty's right eye was cut slightly. Al's right eye was almost swollen shut and his efforts to wink at the crowd were grotesque.

Round 11 was all the cowboy's for he landed repeatedly on Al's sore face. In the twelfth round a swing from McCarty broke the skin under Palzer's left eye, adding to the fighter's discomfiture.

In the thirteenth McCarty cut Al's right ear with a swing. Al's mouth and ear were bleeding and before the round ended a number of men in the crowd were yelling to Referee Eytan to stop it. The fourteenth round was a repeater. McCarty landed more blows on Al's face and brought more blood. Al staggered about scarcely able to fight back, but was game. Al was groggy when it ended.

In the sixteenth round rights and lefts to the head almost dropped Palzer, who was making a wretched defense and landing no blows in return. During the seventeenth McCarty asserted that Palzer struck him low, but the claim was not allowed. McCarty had things his own way and his opponent staggered into his corner when the gong sounded.

McCarty shot his left to Al's jaw as soon as they came together in the eighteenth round and followed it with right and left to Palzer's head. Palzer was reeling unsteadily away from McCarty, when Referee Eytan stopped the fight, declaring McCarty the winner.

New York, Jan. 2.—A process server from the Puyo investigating committee climbed up to the roof of William Rockefeller's home and looked around. If he expected to find Mr. Rockefeller up there he was disappointed, so after making his inspection he descended to the street.

Up and down Fifth avenue in the neighborhood of the William Rockefeller home and in Fifty-fourth street there was a small army of deputy sergeants-at-arms of the house, hoping that Mr. Rockefeller would come out and let himself be served with a subpoena to appear Jan. 6 before the Puyo committee. But Mr. Rockefeller did not come out.

had time to reach so far. This strike is peculiar in that while it takes in all the branches, each branch has its own demands and grievances.

Bernard A. Larger, general secretary of the United Garment Workers, said that there is little doubt that the strike will be successful. All the unions involved are affiliated with the American Federation of Labor, which he said will be behind the strikers. "President Gompers of the American Federation of Labor," he said, "has given me his promise that the federation stands ready to aid in the strike."

Regarding the efforts of the arbitration committee of the chamber of commerce to bring about a settlement, he said that no definite plan of settlement had been reached at the meetings between representatives of the strikers, the manufacturers and the public. It was a little premature to talk of arbitration, he said, as all the people are not out. Negotiations at the rooms of the chamber of commerce, he understood, however, were not broken off, and he hoped that they would lead to a settlement.

Ulster Must Accept Home Rule.

London, Jan. 2.—Ulster must accept the home rule bill, as well as every other province in Ireland, according to a vote in the house of commons. An amendment was proposed by the Unionist members to exclude Ulster from the operations of the bill. This amendment was debated, but it was finally beaten by a vote of 294 to 197. Premier Asquith said the government had taken all precautions possible to guard against the Irish parliament abusing its powers.
